

ABSTRACT

An electro-optical device is provided. The electro-optical device includes a pair of substrates, an electro-optical material held between the pair of substrates by a sealant, and a resin layer provided on at least one substrate of the pair of substrates. Tapers of the resin layer have a plurality of different angles.